

We give you peace of mind

At the Bratton Law Group, we take a personal approach to our clients' needs. Our approach involves constant client contact in a family atmosphere. When we take on your case, we protect and care for your family as we would our own. We do this work to help people and we are committed to helping you.

Whether you need assistance in protecting assets, qualifying for Medicaid, establishing a simple or complex estate plan, resolving a family dispute, challenging or defending a will, establishing a trust, settling real estate matters, or just need a referral to a care manager or long term care facility, we can help.

Home Visits

In an elder law and disabilities practice, many clients are unable to arrange for a visit to the lawyer's office and will require home visits. We are able to accommodate you in these cases. We will bring a lap-top and printer to your home, hospital, or long term care facility. These types of out of office visits are but one way we strive to meet the needs of our clients.

We promise that your case will be handled with skill, efficiency, caring and the utmost respect. Your calls will be returned promptly. Legal fees will always be reasonable and disclosed up front.
